The site comprises of a small field with a gently north easterly facing slope with a species rich sward. Part of the field is mown as a lawn and it is surrounded by recently laid hedges with a tall hedge on the southern boundary. Woodland plants line the hedgerow boundary. To the north of the house are areas 2 and 3 which also have a gradual north easterly slope. They have a wetter feel. Area 3 has a ditch running through it. The site is managed sympathetically but suffers from the fertiliser runoff from the surrounding silage fields.	H4 Neutral Grassland
